that General Grant gave me the strongest evidence possible that these Government contracts were genuine or not?

"Now, whatever may have been the influence which Ward had over General Grant, or however much he may have deceived him in this particular instance, it is certain that the General did write to me that which made me feel perfectly safe in going on with Ward. I cannot see how I am in any way responsible for his being deceived by Ward, or why I was not justified in placing implicit confidence in Ward after getting such a letter fron General Grant. I believed in the genuinness of those Government contracts on General Grant's assurance to me in those letters, and beside those I had from Grant & Ward a regular monthly statement which set forth the profits of the firm for the preceding month. I spoke to General Grant about the success of the firm several times, and he said it the success of the firm several times, and he said it was 'phenomenal.' I was seldom in the office of Grant & Ward, while the General was almost always there and heard all the talk and business which went on, and he always occupied Ward's private office, where I often saw Mr. Chaffee, Mr. Elkins, and others whom Ward told me were his assistants to get these contracts; and I thought surely that he could not but know positively what he was talking about when he said. 'I think the investments are safe.' Further, my letter was not to Grant & Ward, but to General Grant personally, was marked 'private,' and was intended as a conference between us as being older and more conservative than the young men who were running the business, with a view to assuring ourselves that we were working on a solid basis."

DID WARD VISIT GENERAL GRANT? A STORY THAT HE LEFT THE JAIL ON MONDAY-A WARRANT FOR HIS ARREST IN A CRIMINAL

ACTION. Ferdinand Ward is not the quiet and contented prisoner that, according to the statements of the officials of Ludlow Street Jail, he seems to be. But the stories of the great majority of the attaches of the Sheriff's office have to be taken with a pinch of incredulity. When Sheriff Davidson arrived at the jail on Monday afternoon there was a considerable display of mystery, but the reporters were informed that his apmystery, but the reporters were informed that his ap-pearance was simply due to his tender regard for his prespective guest, Mr. Fish. When at 9 p. m., inquiry was made regarding the Sheriff's lengthened stay, the keeper who attends the door at night said with a great show of honesty that "the Sheriff went away at 6 colock." o'clock."

A TRIBUNE reporter was informed yesterday that the Mr. Davidson, Ward and Mr. Shepard left the jail at 4:30 p. m., went to Fielschman's eating house at No. 816 Grand-st, and there entering a coach were driven up town. The reason for the drive was the interview with Mr. Fish published in THE TRIBENE on Monday, and the object of it was to have a talk with ex-President Grant. This was told to the reporter by a man who was in a position to know, for on Monday he had an impor-tant communication to make to Ward and sent a dispatch asking for an hour to be set when he could see the prisoner. The boy arrived with the dispatch about 5 p'clock, and was informed that "Mr. Ward was very engaged with his counsel, and could not see any one for some time." A little while afterward Lawyer Btillman called and was told the same story; sometime afterward Mr. Stillman called again, and, after a short conference in Ward's room with Deputy Warden Klernan retired, apparently well satisfied. These suspicious calls and answers led the man who sent the dispatch to the a strong thread to the two gate posts of the carriage entrance to the jail, and then to wait for developments. Shortly after 9 o'clock he found the thread broken and the padlack on the outside gate. At 7 o'clock a reporter chanced to have an opportunity to look into Ward's rooms, and found that, while there was every evidence of a busy day, they were tenantless.

When Sheriff Davidson was asked by a TRIBUNE reporter yesterday if Ward left the jail in Monday, he said:
• He did not. But if he had and I had been with him it would have been perfectly right. I have the power to go out with my prisoners if I so choose." The proprietor go out with my prisoners if I so cheese." The proposers of the eating-house at No. 316 firmind-st declared that he had never seen the Sheriff; yet his next door neighbor says that the Sheriff visits the phace often with one of two hoon companions. When the reporter asked one of the office's of the jail if the story that Sheriff Davidson and Ward had gone out together on Monday afternoon was true, he closed one eye in a lightly surgestive manner and observed: "I can't say anything short that." Deputy Warden Kierman demed the story absolutely and yet admitted that he had not been in the jail all the afternoon.

The entrance door of the jail was guarded from 4:20 p. m. Monday afternoon until 8:20 yesterday morning by Keepers McGuire, Kiernan and Keating. When they were asked whether either the Sheriff or Mr. Shepard passed them to go out into the street during the time.

Deputy Warden Kiernan is milbority for saying that the gates through which Sheirff Davidson conducted Ward vere never opened except to adoin the prison-view or bricks.

Ward was apparently so well contented with his setions the day before that he did not rise vesterday until sometime after the hear when he usually leaves his heal. He ate his breakfast in his rooms, and then had his morning conversation with Warden Dowling, during which many clears were stanked; but no attempt was made to talk about either Fish or General Grant. At 9:30 Mrs. Ward called, but only required an hour and a balf and then went away with a sad expression on her face. At 10 o'clock Thomas I. Stillman called and remained in carnest consultation with the prisoner until 11:30. At 2:30 p.m. Sidney Green arrived and remained with his beather-in-law all the afternoon. Half an hour after Mr. Green came William S. Ward was admitted. When he left the jull at 3:30 o'clock, he said: "I have been in Philadelpida since last Saturday, and have not bed an opportunity to converse with my brother at any length since. There is no news—that I can assure youabout any statement that Ferdhind is preparing. Previous to his arrest he was engaged in collecting some memorandams with Assurese Davice, and he has Sanply continued his work—that is all. It has been wrongly stated finat Dr Newnom's call was in the interests of General Grant. I was present at the Interview, and not a word was spoken about the General.

An attempt was unde to communicate with Ward carly in the afternoon, but without any other result than to be referred to Mr. Stillman, who "coula tell all about the Fish and Grant matter." Mr. Stillman was called upon, but he replied to all questions: "I have nothing to say."

United States Commissioner Shields issued a warrant yesterday for the arrest of Ward on a criminal charge. The affloart on which the warrant is based is made by Bank-Examinet Scriba. It is the same as that in the case of John D. Fish, with these additional words: "And afform a diff

SPECULATION ABOUT JOHN C. ENO. SIGNING PRIVATE CHECKS AS "PRESIDENT"- THE WATCH ON HIS HOUSE.

A report has been circulated in Wall Street for the last few days that John C. Eno frequently paid to his brokers checks signed "John C. Eno, president." The fact of his signing checks to be used for purposes in this official manner, it was said, would ren-der the brokers responsible to the bank. Yesterday James A. Trowbr | ge | president of the bank, said to a TRIBU E reporter: " here is no doubt about the fact That is, I should imagine not, when I tell you that checks signed in the manner and indersed by various firms with whom Mr. Eno has done business have come into our possession. As to whether we can recover the amounts or not I am not qualified to speak. That is purely a legal question and as such is being con-sidered by the bank's legal advisors. I can only say that we shall of course, in the interests of the stockholders, recover every cent we legally can from every one." "Do you know anything of John C. Euo's where-

Regarding the cleeks drawn by Mr. Euo, Joseph S. Decker, of the firm of Decker & Howell, said: "We have done business for Mr. Eno, but I do but feel at liberty to state whether or not we received any checks signed as president of the received any checks signed as president of the Second National Bank. I do not think, however, that we shall ever be called upon to give any account of our busi-ness relationship with Mr. Eno. If we are we are ready to explain all our transactions." Charles C. Godfe, of Goffe & Randle, said that he must decline to say whether he had received any such checks. A. Dyett, of A. Dyett & Co., said that he hardly believed the rumors, but that he preferred to say nothing about his affairs with Mr. Eno.

order of arrest in his pocket and has orders to arrest Mr. Eno if he sees him on the street. The deputy marshals smile when this is mentioned and say that Mr. McGoolgal and his assistants are of no account against a United States Marshal's warrant. In the afternoon a man after walking past the house told Deputy Marshal Smith that his name was Malcolm D. McLean and that he was a clerk in the Public Works Department. Last summer he saw Mr. Eno frequently at Tarrytown and on Sunday Mr. Eno frequently at Tarrytown and on Sunday he saw him near that place. One of the private defectives induced the servant-girl in one of the neighboring houses to admit him to the rear of the house and declares that to admit him to the rear of the house and declares that he asw Mr. Eno enjoying the cool breeze at an open window and smoking a cigar. Deputy Sheriff Smith frankly admits that he does not know whether Mr. Eno is in New-York or not.

Late in the afternoon Chief Deputy Marshal Curtis said: "I am getting tired of this and shall take some decisive step very shortly. I think Mr. Eno's friends would save themselves much annoyance by telling us frankly if Mr. Fao is in the house or not. It has been suggested that heavy bail would be asked and that the family were getting it ready. The bail would prohably be merely what was asked in the Fish case, $30,000, which could be raired in ten minutes."

WHY STRONG'S BANK WAS CLOSED. GREEN BAY, Wis., May 27 .- The cause of the suspension of Strong's Bank here yesterday is given in a note left by President Henry Strong, who went East on Saturday night. The note is as follows: "Owing to the failure of several banks in this vicinity last winter and the general demoralization of financial matters lately, and also ewing to some villanous reports circulated about our bank, our deposits have greatly decreased, so that in the last three or four months we have had to pay out over last three or four months we have find to pay dut on $100,000. Feeling that we cannot convert our asset rapidly enough in these times to meet the demand for noney, we have deemed it best in justice to all to clos the bank and wind up its affairs. To the writer of this it is a sad ending to thirty years of banking life."

The belief exists cenerally that the depositors will no meet with much loss. The liabilities are said to be about $340,000. The available assets amount to about $350,000 consisting of eash, United States and other bonds an loans, largely among sound business men here.

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

A RAILROAD BILL IN THE SENATE.

SOME EXCEEDINGLY PLAIN TALK BY MR. LOGAN Washington, May 27.—The Senate to-day took up the bill to grant the Cinnabar and Clark's Forks Railroad Company right of way through a portion of the Yellowstone Park. After Mr. Vest and Mr. Call had made remarks in opposition to the bill, Mr. Logan addressed the Senate. He vehemently opposed the giving of right of way to any railroad company through the National Park. The real object of the road was ultimately to give the Northern Pacific Railroad a branch through the Park. There was a disposition to "gobble up" everything in connection with the park by railroads and hotel companies. A department of the United States Government had divided up into seven parts the ten acres which the law allowed to be rented parts the ten acres which the law allowed to be rented to one company, and placed one company in possession of all the hotel privileges in the park and drove everybody else out. And now the Congress of the United States was to be made a football to be kicked about by men outside of it for their own personal gain.

He (Mr. Logan) would have to do some plain speaking on this subject, even if it caused pain. He had been "lobbled "more this winter in behalf of this radiroal by an official of this Government, who was in receipt of $5,000 a year, than he ever had been lobbled in his life. Of course, he knew the gentleman well, but thought it in very bad taste for an officer of a department, having charge of the park, to become a lobbrist for the destruction of the park. Whatever that gentleman may think of his (Mr. Logan's) remarks was immaterial. That gentleman and Mr. Logan had always been good friends, but he (Mr. Logan') lost his respect for any man that would lobby for a corporation. He protested against the destruction of the park.

No action was had on the bill.

HOW TO DEAL WITH THE MORMONS. At the Madison Square Presbyterian Church ast night a meeting was held to consider the best means of reclaiming the Mormons. F. W. Blohm and the Rev. G. W. Martin, of Manti, Utah, commissioners to the General Assembly, made addresses. SPORTS OF THE SEASON.

DEFEAT FOR THE HOME BASEBALL NINES. THE BOSTON, ST. LOUIS AND INDIANAPOLIS NINES

VICTORIOUS.

The Boston and New-York League nines played their third game at baseball at the Polo Grounds, yesterday, the champions winning their first victory over the local club. The game was well contested throughout, the Boston players winning through superior work at the bat. Whitney pitched with more effect than usual, the home nine making only three hits off his delivery. Welch was batted for six hits, with a total of ten bases scored against him. Ewing caught in good form, while Caskins picked up hot grounders and threw out the visitors in fine picked up hot grounders and threw out the visitors in fine style. Only three runs were scored during the game and those in the first inning. The New-York nine scored an uncarned run, Ewing making a hit going around to third on an error by Burdoch, and reaching the bome plate on a wild throw by Morrill. The Boston players batted Welch freely in their half of the inning, scoring two runs. Hornung led off with a safe hit, and scored on a three-base hit to left centre-field by Sulton. The latter scored on a single hit to centre field by Whitney. The game from that point out was finely played, and neither side succeeded in adding to its score. In the ninth inning two men were on the bases for the New-York nine, with two seen out. Connor was at the bat, and a safe hit would have won the game for the local club; but Connor, usually strong at the bat, knecked up an easy fly to third base, and the game was ended. ROSS AND COURTNEY'S TRACTICE PULLS. As the time for the Courtney-Ross boat-race approaches the interest in it increases. A number of well-known amateur oarsmen and other "sporting" men were at Oak Point yesterday watching the men practice. The general impression is, that should the wind be light and the water smooth, the olds will be in favor of Courtney winning the race; but should the water be rough, Ross will stand the better chance of coming in shead. Ross's favorite pull is around the North Brother Island and down toward Ward's Island. Occasionally he goes through the Bronx Kills and shows himself in the Ha lem River. He took a trial spin on the Harlem yesterday in his naw boat, which he keeps in the Metropolitan Club's boat-house. Courtney's favorite pull is straight across the East River and past Riker's Island into Flushing Egy. He occasionally pulls up to College Point or White-stone. He has a horror of ateamboats and keeps away from them as much as possible. Both men took long pulls yesterday. Ross was accompanied by Plaisted and Courtney was by himself. starting and finishing point, has been almost completed. It has been pretty well decided that the race will be rowed over the Ward's Island course, extending almost due north and south from Oak Point to a stakehoawhich will be anchored off the northern end of Ward's Island. Should the wind prove unfavorable to this course the one extending from the point out toward Riker's Island will be adopted. In either case the whole course can be seen from start to finish with the aid of field glasses. Both courses will be staked off either to day or to-morrow. Arrangements have been made with the Iron Steamboat Company to have one of its steamers ply between Oak Point and various points in New-York, Brooklyn and Jersey City.

MITCHELL WISHES TO KEEP OUT OF JAIL. There has been no fight arranged between Charles Mitchell and John L. Sullivan. The talk between the two at the Ashland House, on Monday, which gave grounds for the report, was of an informal character. Nothing positive was settled except that the two men are willing to meet. It is certain, however, that a fight will be arranged to take place as soon as the men can be got into proper fighting trim. Mitchell is anxious to meet the champion, and Sullivan is perfectly willing that the meeting shall take place. Representa-tives of the two men will meet shortly and make the preper arrangements. The fight will be the regulation four rounds, Marquis of Queensberry rules, with fourounce gloves, and it will take place in the Madison Square Garden. When Mitchell was asked by a Tribuse reporter yester-When Mitchell was asked by a Tribuxe reporter yester-day whether there was a chance of his meeting Sullivan with bare knuckies on the grass, he said: "What is the use of flighting with bare knuckies and running the risk of four or dive years in the penitentiary, when more money is to be made by sparring with the gloves! I like America first-rate, but I don't have the least desire to become ac-quainted, from personal experience, with her prison system."

THE COURTS.

MR. CONKLING DABBLES IN PATHOLOGY. The Hoyt will case took up its plodding round of the third month yesterday. The first point vital to the contest was made by Mr. Choate, who complained of the scarcely audible language of Roscoe Conkling. As Mr. Conkling labored under the impression that he had made himself pretty audible in the case whenever opportunity had been effected by search to a search which is character. been afforded, he sought a speedy relief in charging Mr. Choate with descending in lordly and grandiose manner upon a plain man (Mr. Conkling), and then he referred pointedly to "the gorgeous coruscations" of Mr. Choate's wit. All this produced a colm, pointedly to "the gorgeous cornscations" of Mr. Choate's wit. All this produced a calm, and it enabled Dr. Henry B. Maillard, an extract and incisive witness, to tell all he had learned of the physical condition of Jesse Hoys' in the last months of hislife. The physician had suspected that Mr. Hoyt was suffering from Bright's disease, or "some devillsh disease of that surt." He nastened to assure the Court that he intended no profunity. United States District-Attorney Root suggested that this assurance was not necessary, and Mr. Conk'ing suggested that the expression was only "a nostled term." Everybody smiled at the ex-Senator's knowledge of medleine, and the seven other lawyers peoped cautiously out between their grip-sucks and volumes of law-seports in order to ascertain if Mr. Conkling was really in earnest. Having assured themselves on this point, they all dropped back listo their seats as if moved by one common impulse.

The next commotion occurred when Dr. Maillard explained his entries in his notebook, relative to hypodernile hjections in Mr. Hoyt's case. He was armed with a hypodermic syringe and explained to Mr. Conkling how the instrument worked. Mr. Choate ventured to make a suggestion, and Mr. Conkling then declared that he should use the syringe to mark his learned opponent for identification. Mr. Root arged the irrelevancy of this, somebody smiled, and the proceedings once more settled themselves into a condition of monotony. Mr. Conking propounded deep and learned questions in pathology until 3 p. m., and then Dr. Maillard, the lawyers and the Court adjourned until this morning.

convention will be opened to morrow morning in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church, the occasion being the annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocces of Maryland. The interesting feature of the occasion will be the selection of a successor to the interesting Prinking. The old feud between the Ritualists and their opponents, will now be fought out to the bilter end. Among the clerical vote the Conservatives claim 140, and the Ritualists 45. The Rev. J. S. B. Hodges, of St. Paul, is the choice of the Ritualists, and Bishop Elliot, missionary bishop of Western Texas, the favorite of the Conservatives. A serious dissension exists in the ranks of the latter, so that there are chances of the Ritualists holding the balance of power. It requires a two-thirds vote for a choice. ACTIVITY FOLLOWING DULL MARKETS. LARGE DECREASE IN THE VISIBLE SUPPLY OF GRAIN. IST TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNAL CHICAGO, May 27 .- "There's nothing doing." said a trader who was pacing up and down the floor this morning. "There's not been a trade in a lot above 25,000 bushels in the pit this morning." Then he jerked his head toward the corn pit and looked at the clock. It was 11 o'clock. Nearly half the day's regular session was over. "Weak cables," said another trader who stood on the edge of the wheat crowd, "has made all the little traders 'bearish.' That's all there is.

on the edge of the wheat crowd, "has made all the little traders 'bearish.' That's all there is. I expected after yesterday's close to see the market full of life and snap this morning. It's as dead as a door-hall. There's no trade, no news, no nothing," and he turned away disgusted. The stock market opened higher in New-York, but it did not start prices higher here. July wheat opened at 90 cents. 'g cent above last night's curb close. It went right down to 89% cents. June corn followed suit. It began at 53% cents, but dropped to 54% cents. Pork was firm. There were only 1.600 hogs at the yards, and prices there were reported firm. July pork started at $18.60 and advanced to $18.65. July lard opened at $18.50 and kept peetty firm up to 10 o'clock.

The local visible supply figures were a surprise to the crowd. They showed a decrease for the week in the visible supply of corn of 1,685,420 bushels. It was not supposed that the grain was being caten up so fast. Unon these figures being announced there was, an immediate advance. Wheat, which had gotten up to 90 cents for July, moved up to 90% cents. July corn moved apfrom 56% cents to 57% cents. The "shorts" was the conclusion that the Young's had fooled them. They did not believe that the market could exhibit strength of itself. The pork which had been heavy, started up and advanced to $15 80. July lard was firm. The receipts were pretty large compared with what they have been. There were 39 cars of wheat, 306 of corn, and 310 of cars. At 1 o'clock July wheat closed at 91% cents, July corn at 57% cents July pork at $18 90. July lard at $3 85.
